A DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

Jealousy Caused Two Crimes in Marietta.

George Lankford Kills His Wife and Then Ends His Own Existence With a Bullet.

MARIETTA, May 23.—One of the most terrible tragedies—murder and suicide—ever known in Marietta occurred Sunday afternoon. George Lankford shot and instantly killed his wife and then shot himself, the bullet in each case entering above the eye and passing through the brain.

A large number of citizens were gathered on the streets viewing the damage of the night's tornado, when the news of the tragedy reached their ears, and good crowds assembled at the Lankford home, on South Fifth street. In the sitting room by the prostrate form of Willie Lane lay Lankford on the floor, with her arms outstretched and her head in a pool of blood. George Lankford, her husband, lay in a corner gasping for breath, and by his right hand by a Smith & Wesson revolver with two empty shells in it. George Lankford lived nearly two hours after the fatal shot was fired.

Jealousy was the cause of this tragedy, and it was on the wife's side. She came to this city from Parkersburg and six months ago was married to Lankford. She had always led a fast life. George Lankford was twenty seven years old and had a wide reputation as a prize fighter, having won numerous battles, the last a twenty eight round mill last fall.

He started a saloon here and has been doing a successful business. Nearly all his married life has been unpleasant to him, his wife being jealous of him and accusing him of giving attention to other women.

She was promoted in such belief by other women reporting the presence of her husband at certain resorts. Since Saturday morning it had been one continuous quarrel between Lankford and his wife. Sunday she asked him to account for $7 which she had given him. This he refused to do. About 10 o'clock Sunday morning Lankford went down town and shortly afterward his wife went in search of him. They returned home about noon and the quarrel was resumed which ended in death.

In Lankford's pockets were found $6.80 out of the $7 about which the quarrel started. In his hip pocket was a large amount of money in bills. Four months ago Nicholas Haas, stepfather of Lankford, killed his wife by cutting her throat and then shooting himself. The circumstances were very much the same in each case.

SHOT WHILE ASLEEP.

Greentown Bank Affairs—Bridge Construction—Other State News.

DANVILLE, Ind., May 23.—Mrs Lillian Nolan, a bride of a month, was mysteriously shot last Saturday afternoon at her home in this county. She was asleep and did not see the party firing the shot. The shooting was witnessed by a tramp. No trace was found of him. Mrs Nolan will recover.

ELWOOD, Ind., May 23.—At Frankton last night the temperance element rose up en masse, swooped down upon the three saloons and literally ribbled them, destroying all the contents. The three ring leaders are under arrest.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., May 23.—There is an epidemic of cerebro spinal meningitis in this city, and in each case it has proved fatal in a few hours. Six or eight people, mostly young men, have been victims of it in the last week or ten days.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., May 23.—Mr. Milligan, superintendent of the Jeffersonville and Louisville bridge for the Big Four, arrived in the city yesterday morning, and is looking over the situation. Work will be begun in about two weeks.

RICHMOND, Ind., May 23.—Bert Becker, fifteen years old, of this city, was watching a base ball game Sunday. The bat slipped from the batter's hands, struck young Becker on the head, fracturing his skull. It will prove fatal.

KOKOMO, May 23.—John W. Paris, of Indianapolis, has offered to settle the affairs of the Greentown bank after this fashion. He wants the depositors to buy the bank furniture and fixtures and assume all liabilities, he to secure them by depositing with them $100,000 of stock in the Chicago Consolidated Mining company, to be held subject to redemption by Paris at the expiration of twelve months. The depositors do not take kindly to the proposition.

BEDFORD, May 23.—William Beale, foreman of the chair factory at Centerville, was experimenting with chemicals Saturday night. He was trying to produce what is known as "white fire" when the chemicals exploded. He held a tube in his mouth, blowing, and a flame shot down his throat, clear into his lungs. The entire lining of his throat was burned out, and his larynx destroyed. He can not recover, although still alive. His sufferings are intense.

HUMBERT'S CABINET

Resigns and the King is Troubled Thereby.

ROME, May 23.—At 11 o'clock this morning King Humbert was in consultation with Signor Guiseppe Zanardelli, the leading statesman and former minister of public works and of the interior. Signor Zanardelli urged the King to refuse to accept the resignation of the ministry. Signor Giolitti, however, persists in his intention to resign. It is stated that the premier will be requested to call upon the senate and chamber of deputies to express their confidence in the ministry. The senate will do so, but it is doubtful if the chamber will do so. The situation is very critical.

THE STRIKE IS ON.

Northwestern Telegraphers Go Out This Morning.

An Hour Later a Freight Train Runs into an Open Switch and a Bad Wreck Occurs.

CHICAGO, May 23.—The long anticipated strike of the telegraphers on the Chicago and Northwestern road occurred at 1 o'clock this morning. An hour later a disastrous wreck occurred on the Milwaukee division of the road. A heavy freight train, composed of twenty cars, reached North Evanston, and though the south b. signals were properly set, struck an open switch and left the rails, the cars piling upon each other and completely blockading all the tracks. The engineer and fireman of the train saved themselves by jumping.

Just as the engine passed the station, running at full speed on the main track, the tower man is said to have remembered that he should have switched the train to a side track. After the engine had passed he threw the switch and one after another the cars piled up on one another until eighteen were thrown across the track.

The strike, it has been learned, was the result of a bogus dispatch sent over the wires of the company at 10 o'clock last night, the origin of which is not known. As soon as Grand Chief Rain say heard of the walk out this morning he immediately proceeded to repair the damage as far as he could. He sent a committee to the general officers at the road in this city with authority to denounce the outrage and with a message to all members of the Order of Railway Telegraphers ordering them to return to work and explaining that no official order would be given to strike, if that action were necessary, until every division has been parsled. Several hundred operators at various points along the road left their posts in obedience to the spurious mandate, but all returned to work this morning when Mr. Ramsay's order passed over the lines. The railway officials declare that the strike was in no wise responsible for the wreck at South Evanston this morning. Mr. Ramsay, when seen at his hotel this morning, said that the bogus order was no doubt the work of an enemy of the telegraphers' order, and everything was being done to discover its identity and to rectify the damage caused by him. No radical steps would be taken, he said, until a conference had been had with General Manager Wilkinson, of the road.

G. A. R. POST DISBANDED.

New York Veterans Lose Their Charter on Account of a Criticism.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 23.—Commander Cleary, of the state department of the Grand Army of the Republic, today issued an order disbanding Noah L. Farnham post, of New York city, for passing resolutions criticising the pension laws, declaring that great frauds had been perpetrated and calling loudly for reform. The resolutions were not submitted to the department and national commanders, as required by G. A. R. rules. Commander-in-Chief Weissert approved of the action taken by Cleary, holding that by its action Farnham post forfeited its charter and is barred from further participation in Grand Army councils. The resolutions coming from army veterans attracted wide attention, and were sent to the president and members of congress.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Members of Farnham Post received with equanimity today the notice of their suspension. They declare that the resolutions they adopted were true and they will stand by them. They predict a split in the Grand Army, declaring that over half the veterans are against the present pension system, which has been productive of heavy pensions for the soldiers, bounty jumpers and bogussoldiers and very small ones for the honest veteran.

HAIR DYED WHILE HE SLEPT.

John Street Has a Barber Arrested for Changing the Color of His Locks.

CHICAGO, May 23.—When John Street arrived in this city from Switzerland two weeks ago he had lots of blonde hair, a big blonde mustache and light eyebrows. Now he looks like the darkest of brunettes and is very angry, for the change was undesired. Today he wandered into a barber shop in the basement at 35 Wells street, and sitting down in the chair, cautioned that he wanted a shave. Street remained in the chair while Harry Snyder, proprietor, shaved him and fussed with his hair. Soothed by the barber's touch, Street went to sleep in the chair and the barber still continued to work on him.

When he awoke Street tendered the barber a $5 bill. He says he was given no change, so he pointed to a sign on the wall which read "Shaving 10 cents." Snyder took the $5 bill by the arm and led him to a corner. With a shriek Street tore himself from the grasp and did not stop running until he ran against Captain Ewer in front of the East Chicago avenue station. The man was brought into the station and an interpreter procured. Will, then, in Sweden, he explained how his blonde hair and candy mustache had been dyed black while he slept. Even his eyebrows had been dyed, and Street said his friends would be unable to recognize him. A warrant was sworn out and Snyder was arrested.

SUNDAY OPENING.

The Commissioners Take Up the Question.

The Irish Village, a Typical Scene of Life in the Emerald Isle, Dedicated Today.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Telegrams continue to pour into the national commission regarding Sunday opening and when Commissioner De Young called the national body to order, about 10:30 o'clock this morning, a good sized stack of these communications lay on the president's desk. They were from all parts of the country and were of the same import. "Keep the gates of the world's fair closed on Sunday."

After a half hour's discussion it was agreed that the debate on the adoption of one of the reports from the judiciary committee on the Sunday closing should be continued to three and one-half hours.

The commission then settled itself to hear the Sunday closing matter referred and the debate ran in all of its branches, Mr Elliott, of Iowa, beginning the debate by speaking in favor of the adoption of the minority report, which favors Sunday opening.

Commissioner Burton, of Kansas, chairman of the judiciary committee, also supported the minority report. He began by stating that the opposition did not deny that the creative act gave to the commission and the exposition company an absolute right to close or open the gates on Sunday. But that right was taken away from both bodies by the recalled souvenir act. The condition imposed in that act made it the duty of the commission to keep the gates closed on Sunday.

The question upon which the minds of the judiciary committee diverged was as to whether the conditions of the souvenir act had been complied with. The souvenir money, he thought, was intended to be a gift. It was a mighty mean and small gift when the great fair was considered, and the American congress imposed conditions which the exposition corporation had decided were impossible to comply with. Then the original discretionary powers reverted to the directory and the commission in regard to being a Sunday opening rule, and he hoped next Sunday would see the fair opened by an amicable arrangement.

The completion of Mrs. Hart's Irish village in the Midway plaisance was celebrated this afternoon with a reception and entertainment by the people composing the village. Many prominent Irish Americans and guests of other nationalities were present. Addresses of welcome were delivered by Archbishop Feehan and ex Congressman John Finnerty, of Chicago, as well as Mrs Hart. A reproduction of Blarney castle forms the front of the village and visitors make the archway. Cottages, where various industries peculiar to Erin are to be seen, flank the village and make up a typical Irish scene. Irish pipers, horseshoers, home spun workers, wood carvers, lace makers and others gave exhibitions of their skill. Most of the villagers are from Donegal and other parts of Connaught.

COMING CONTESTS.

Good Short Pedestrian Lovers of Pugilistic Science.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The next pugilistic tournament of the Coney Island Athletic club will take place Thursday evening, June 22. There will be three contests—two ten-round bouts and a fight to a finish. The first will be between Mike Leonard and George Reynolds; the second between Billy Ernst, of Brooklyn, and Billy Vernon, of Haverstraw, N. Y. The great of the night, however, will be the finish "go" between Jim Daly, of Philadelphia, Corbett's ex sparring partner, and Joe Butler, also of Philadelphia, the colored middleweight, who made himself famous recently by nearly knocking out Joe Goddard in a four round go in the Quaker City. Both men are young, strong and exceptionally clever.

Regarding conflicting reports about Jack Dempsey's engagement, Mr. Kelcherdt, the official referee of the club, said today: "All this talk talk about Dempsey signing to fight at other clubs practices to his 'go' with Billy Smith at the Coney Island Athletic club rooms is the veriest bosh. Both men will certainly meet on the date recently fixed, July 21. Smith has already signed the articles of agreement and Dempsey has accepted the terms offered by the club. The club officials are fully satisfied that there will be no further hitch and are already making arrangements for the meeting."

OLDEST MICHIGAN WOMAN.

Mrs. Annie Mozette Celebrated Her Hundredth Birthday at Jackson.

JACKSON, Mich., May 23.—In the poorhouse of this county, of which she has been an inmate for the last eleven years, Mrs. Annie Mozette yesterday celebrated her hundredth birthday anniversary and at the same time reached the distinction of being the oldest woman in the state. Her memory relative to recent events is defective, but she can recall distinctly happenings that took place when she was a girl. Her health is good, although she is not very stable on her feet. Presents accumulated to make the closing days of her life more pleasant were made to her centenarian by a number of her friends outside of the institution.

FEES AND SALARIES.

A Case Designed to Test the Law.

Sheriff Jas. W. Stout of Vigo County Against State Auditor Breckenridge.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 23.—Yesterday afternoon the case brought by Sheriff James W. Stout, of Vigo county, against the auditor of state, in suit of the constitutionality of the existing fee and salary law, was called for argument in the circuit court. Judge Elliott and Judge A. C. Ayres represented the plaintiff, while Attorney General Smith appeared for the defendant. The counsel for the plaintiff argued that the operation involved in one hinged upon the power of the legislature as against the provisions of the state constitution. The constitution provides that the compensation of public officers shall be graded according to the necessary services of the officers and the population of the county. As long as a constitutional mode of procedure is provided, argued Judge Elliott, the legislature is powerless. He urged that the amendment of 1891, of a law which did not legally exist, could not apply to compensation in grading the salaries of the state officers. He argued that the salary of the attorney general could not be made contingent on the fees provided by the law, the salary of the auditor of state another and the compensation for the services of the state treasurer still another. It was impossible, he said, for the legislature to apply the amendment to county officers and not to state officers. It was a judicial question and it was for the circuit court, in the case at issue, to establish the fact whether the law in question has been enacted by the legislature in accordance with the provisions of the constitution. To show the weak points of the fee and salary law, Judge Elliott, from the last report of the state statistician, produced a few figures. He showed that in Rush county an average of 353 cases had been filed, in Decatur, 213, and yet under the existing law the clerk in Rush county was allowed $500 a year more salary than the clerk in Decatur. In Ohio county an average of only twenty-four cases had been filed, in Wabash county, 311. The salary of the clerk in Ohio county was fixed at $1,000 per annum, while only $2,450 was allowed the clerk of Wabash county.

Judge Brown stated he was going to try the case as though he were the court of final jurisdiction and asked the attorney-general if he was prepared with his argument.

Attorney General Smith stated that since the suit had been instituted he had had but little time to even draw his breath, and had also been absent from the city. He will look up his authorities and present his side of the case later. Until such time the case will be continued.

TERRE HAUTE'S POSTOFFICE.

Commissioner Roosevelt's Report Is Analyzed in the Post, Herald, etc.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., May 23. The appearance of the report of Messrs. Swift and Foulke, of the Indiana civil service commission, on the Terre Haute postoffice case is met by Postmaster Denham and friends with the charge that its conclusions are necessarily one-sided, because the gentlemen heard only one side when they were here. The facts, however, are the same as those ascertained by Commissioner Roosevelt, who heard statements from more Denham men than from the other side. The commissioner's report is the one that is awaited as being of most decisive effect. The stenographer's report of the statements made to him last Friday was forwarded to Washington yesterday and his report will probably be made to the president tomorrow. The Republican people have been very much engaged in some mysterious work since yesterday. It is supposed they are sending on to Washington charges against the old employes. The case that will be presented to Mr Cleveland, however, was made up by the means used to postpone the civil service examination and to get possession of the examination.

LEGAL BATTLE OVER A PATENT.

Evidence Taken in Suits Which May Cause Great Litigation.

CINCINNATI, May 23.—General Conrad, clerk of the United States court here, is taking depositions in the cases of the Jonathan Mills Manufacturing company against N. C. Whitehurst & Sons of Carl Winchester, and against J. F. Williams & Sons, of Columbus. They are test patent cases, on which will depend the filing of other suits against parties throughout the country whose aggregate will be $10,000 or more. The first named defendant firm is using the Dunlap bolts in its sheet mill, which are manufactured by Benford & Co., of Cincinnati. The second firm is using the Gray bolt, manufactured by Allen & Co., of Milwaukee, Wis. About 1842 Jonathan Mills applied for and received a patent for a bolting nut and image an inside cylinder, with decorses for elevating stock and equipped in the other side, in order to get more bolting surface on the cloth. Such tools are in use in nearly every mill in the country, and if it can be established that they are infringements of the patent obtained by Jonathan Mills twenty years from in the courts, it will be a very big thing for the Cincinnati company, as only three firms in the country make such bolts. Jonathan Mills's grandson, Charles Mills, is the president of the company, and the main office is in this city.

STORM NEWS.

Cyclones Play Havoc With Life and Property.

Cleveland is Visited By the Most Severe Storm of the Season—At Other Places.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 23.—A cyclone with the heaviest rain on record, struck Cleveland at 9:30 this morning. Trees, signs and wires are blown down in every direction. The big building at Euclid and Superior streets was blown down, one man being badly hurt. Scaffolds at the corner of Erie and Superior streets, and at the Cleveland Rolling mills, were wrecked, one man being killed and several badly injured. It is reported that the steel works in South Cleveland was blown to pieces and two men killed, and two others seriously injured.

DARLINGTON, Wis., May 23.—About 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon a tornado passed from the southwest in a northeasterly direction, about two miles north of this city. The track of the tornado was about one mile in width and extended through the southern part of the township of Willow Springs, destroying several houses, barns and other buildings. Mrs. James Bailey was killed and Mr. Bailey seriously injured. The houses of Wm. G. Kruse, Ed. Howe and E. C. King were destroyed. The timber in the track of the tornado is leveled. It is reported that Charles Cassidy, also of Willow Springs, was killed.

ST. PAUL, May 23.—Heavy winds, accompanied by a heavy rain, much thunder and lightning, prevailed in this section Sunday night, doing great damage to property and injuring a large number of people. It was one of the worst gales ever experienced here. The velocity of the wind between the twin cities was little less than that of a tornado. At the state farm, near St. Anthony Park, the cattle barns and the windmill were blown down. The damage in the city to plate glass windows was considerable.

DETROIT, Mich., May 23.—A heavy gale, amounting almost to a cyclone, struck Detroit at 8 o'clock this morning. No damage was done, however, beyond the destruction of trees. Across the river at Windsor and in the vicinity the damage amounts to $10,000. No one was injured so far as known. At Holly the storm unroofed George Johnson's block and the Holly company's mill and opera house.

IRON HALL MEETING.

The Supreme Officers Meet at Indianapolis.

They Are Anxious to Bring Matters to a Focus—Startling Statements Concerning Lapses.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 23.—Eight members of the supreme sitting of the order of Iron Hall are at the Denison house here, who say that they will hold the regular session of that body. They are led by Supreme Cashier Darlos and Accountant Walker. The members represent the anti Somerby faction. They hope by reorganizing to become competent to receive the Iron Hall funds now in Receiver Falley's hands and announcing to over $1,000,000. The Somerby faction is meeting for the same purpose at Philadelphia. This morning a supplemental complaint in the receivership case was filed. It charges that the books of the order show that the organization has never paid its maturing certificates from lapses but had paid them from dues of new members. These whose certificates lapsed, the books show, they allege, received larger sums in benefits than they paid in. The complaint states that one of the state receivers are willing and desire to account to the local receiver, J. F. Falley, and the court is asked to secure them that they will share pro rata in the assets now or hereafter."

OPENING BIDS.

Contractors Submit Figures for the Tri-State Building.

Henry A. Lapp, of This City, Appears to be the Lowest Bidder at the Present Writing.

The office of Architects Wing & Mahurin, in the Fairway long block, was this afternoon crowded with contractors and material men from Fort Wayne and many surrounding cities. They were present to submit their plans for the fine new building to be erected on the corner of Berry and Court streets by the Tri-State Building and Loan association. When completed the building will be one of the finest structures in the city. The plans were placed in the hands of Messrs. Wing & Mahurin last January. At first it was intended to erect an eight story building having steel columns and beams and wooden joist, but the plans were changed to include a fire proof structure throughout, with stone and brick exterior, tile flooring on first floor and the basement to be used for heating and lighting machinery. The first floor is to be used for business purposes and the remaining floors for offices with the exception of the eighth floor, which will be fitted up as an amusement hall and cafe. The finest of elevators, steam heating and electric lighting apparatus will be used.

Messrs. Wing & Mahurin have specified in advertising for bids that as nearly as possible all the material should be secured and worked in Fort Wayne. Among some of those present from abroad who are here to present bids are the following gentlemen:

The wheel is a Warwick, 1892 pattern, having one and one-half inch cushion tire. The stranger wore a brown suit of clothes and is about twenty-three years of age. The wheel is valued at $125. A reward of $25 is offered for the return of the wheel and the capture of the alleged thief.

THREATENED STRIKE.

The Street Car Employes Say They Will Go Out.

Division No. 18 of the Amalgamated Association Calls a Special Meeting—The Vice President Interviewed.

A strike among the employes of the Fort Wayne Electric Street Railway company is imminent. A special meeting of the members of Division No. 18 Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes has been called for tonight, after working hours next Saturday.

The one hundred men in the employ of the company have been in a state of restlessness for some four or five months past. They assert their right in consideration of the service rendered to ask for an increase of wages from thirteen and one half cents to fifteen cents per hour. Early in the winter they vigorously agitated the desired increase but for some few months past have been "laying low," so to speak. The difference between the men and their employers is an honest one. The company does not feel that it can, under the present strain of the money market and patronage of the road, acquiesce to the demands of the men. The employes claim that the wages paid by the company are too low—lower, in fact, than any city of a like size in the country.

Early in the spring the committee from the local union called upon Vice President Robison, of the company, and say they received a promise that, with the increasing patronage of the lines during the month of April, the men might expect the desired increase in their wages sometime during the present month. When the first of May came around Mr. Robison was out of the city and the committee was unable to see him until last week. Mr. Robison received the committee courteously, but absolutely refused to make the advance in the wages asked for. At the meeting of the union on last Saturday night the committee who had waited upon the vice president reported the failure of their mission. The meeting was largely attended.

TO A SENTINEL representative one of the leading men in the union this morning stated that the special meeting to be held on Saturday night would probably result in the committee being instructed to call upon Mr Robison and make a final effort to secure the desired advance.

"What will you do in the event of being refused?" was asked.

"As to our course, one can easily guess. We will try what we consider the most effective method of bringing the company to time. Wait and see."

The men seem determined to secure the advance in their wages and have been agitating the matter for so long that they will no doubt make some decisive move.

At the Plack hotel this morning Mr. Robison was interview by a SENTINEL representative. In response to the question as to whether the street car company would give its men the desired raise, he said:

"We can not do it. The company is in no shape to make the advance. We are giving the citizens what we consider excellent service. The operating expenses of the lines is heavy and the employes are asking something which we do not feel that we can give."

"In the event of a strike—what?

"We will fill the places of the strikers in twelve hours."

"From residents or non-residents?" was asked.

"We would probably bring the majority of the men from Cleveland.

"Do you not think the service would be seriously crippled?"

"It might be for a few hours, but not longer. We would have to ask the indulgence of the public for a day, perhaps, but I think we could be running smoothly inside of twelve hours."

"Is it true, Mr. Robison, that you are hostile to labor organizations?"

"This is a mistake. I have no objection to the men belonging to what organization they choose. I will not, however, treat with the order as an organization. I do not recognize their right to dictate. If a man wishes to belong to a labor organization this is his right, and it does not prejudice him with the company. We retain the employe for individual efficiency. His situation is dependant upon his worth to his employers.

"Do you consider the men well paid?" was asked.

"Yes. The labor is not difficult. The men are employed every day in the year, and are not laid off every now and then, as they are in the shops. The men have a much easier time of it than they had under the old horse car system. I trust the men will do nothing rash for we can take some of them back, and they will make a serious mistake by going out."

SUICIDE OF AN ANARCHIST.

An Ex-Hungarian Takes His Life at Albuquerque, N. M.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., May 23.—An anarchist tailor, Henry Eisbner, a native of Hungary, committed suicide here at noon yesterday by the shot of a Bonbom, where he worked. He placed the barrel of a revolver in his mouth and fired, the ball passing through his head. He was twenty-three years of age. Eisbner came here from Chicago about three months ago. He left a letter addressed to his father in Chicago, in which he said he was tired of the struggle and preferred death to a life of misery. He was a member of the anarchists and a correspondent of the collection of Hungarian Nos from Winnipeg. He was a good tailor, and had been employed by Walsh and other firms in Chicago.

BOYS DOWN.

Fort Wayne Telegraphic Communication Cut Off.

No telegraphic service reached the morning's storm. The Pittsburg wires were down back as far as east of this city between the Pennsylvania and Wabash. At the latter place, however, connection with Chicago was effected, and at noon part of the east wire was in operation, though the wires worked very unsatisfactorily. Graphic accounts of storms came pouring in from all quarters, indicating that the storm was not confined to any particular locality.

THE COURTS.

Coroner Harrod Returns a Verdict in the Brackenridge Case.

The Day's News as Found Around the Court House and in the Justice Offices of the City.

Coroner Harrod rendered his verdict this morning in the case of the death of Robert Emmett Brackenridge. All the testimony taken by him threw no new light upon the case other than that already told in the columns of THE SENTINEL and it is the opinion of the young man's friends that his death was the result of an accident. The verdict of the coroner was as follows:

"I, Morse Harrod, M.D., after having examined the body and all the evidence in the case as to the death of Robert Emmet Brackenridge, do find that death was caused by a gun-shot wound in the head."

WILL AFFECT EX-CONGRESSMEN.

Decision to the Effect That They Cannot Distribute Public Documents.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Assistant Attorney Hall, of the interior department, has made a decision upon a point raised by Representative and ex-Senator H. W. Blair, of New Hampshire, which will be a surprise and disappointment to members of the fifty second congress who failed of reelection. In F. McKinney, who has been appointed minister to the United States of Colombia, was Mr. Blair's predecessor from the First district of New Hampshire, and after the adjournment of the Fifty-second congress continued to distribute public documents, the printing of which had been ordered during or previous to his term of service, particularly census reports.

The other day Mr. Blair called Secretary Smith's attention to the provision of the census law, which says reports shall be distributed by senators and representatives. As one of the latter, he said, he had succeeded Mr. McKinney, and he suggested that he was entitled to the copies allowed the First district of New Hampshire. The assistant attorney general held that the point was well taken and that as Mr. Blair is now the representative from that district he is entitled to supervise the distribution of documents.

THE NEW UNION.

E. V. Debs Outlines Its Purpose.

Accidents, Incidents and Personal Mention of the People About the Railway Centres.

Eugene V. Debs, who is in New York in the interest of the American Railway union, thus defines the organization:

"We shall reduce expenses by consolidation in the matter of halls or meeting places. We shall establish a daily newspaper in the interest of railway employes, and also a monthly magazine. Our daily newspaper will be published in Chicago. The capital is ready in plenty, and the plans are about completed. It will not be a large newspaper, but it will be large enough to contain not only the news of the labor world and the railroad world in particular, but all the essential telegraphic news of the day as well. We shall furnish this paper at the cost of production, our object in publishing it not being profit in any sense, except to the men who support it, and we believe they will profit by the possession of such a newspaper. We shall not run especially to editorials, but shall make news our chief feature, though, of course, we shall discuss questions of general interest. The magazine will be run on the same lines as far as price is concerned, as the daily, but necessarily it will not be so much a medium for the distribution of news. The newspaper will sell for a cent, and the magazine will be put out at the lowest possible figure. Another feature of the educational department will be the monthly meetings, which will, to a large extent, if not altogether, take the place of the ordinary weekly lodge meetings. To these meetings all members of the order in the town where they are held will be invited, and they will be addressed by the heads of the districts on such subjects as are of vital interest to workingmen. We believe that these meetings will stimulate the thought of the railroad men greatly.

"A meeting for the perfection of the American Union's organization will be held in Chicago June 20, and the plans, so far as they have been decided, may be roughly outlined as follows:

"The entire country will be divided into districts, of which there will be twelve. From Chicago twelve organizers, one for each district, will be sent out, and they will go from center to center organizing, first, district headquarters or capitals, and, after this is done, headquarters for subdivisions. The boundaries of the divisions have not yet been fixed. The subdivisions will be subordinate, of course, to the district capitals, and each subordinate organization will be entitled to delegates in proportion to its membership, say one to every two hundred. There will be no yearly state conventions nor grand conventions—these cost from $35,000 to $60,000—but there will be a quadrennial convention of the entire order, and sixty days before the holding of a quadrennial convention the lodges or unions will elect delegates, who will meet at the district capitals and choose delegates to the quadrennial convention. Each district will be entitled to delegates in proportion to its membership. It is proposed that the quadrennial convention shall do its work in a day, or at most two days, and that its business shall be mainly the election of a board of directors of say twenty or thirty practical railroad men. To this board of directors will be instructed the business of the order.

"We propose to make this an organization of rugged workingmen. We shall study economy. We shall include every branch of railroad employment from the lowest to the highest, and without doing away with special organizations we shall strive to bring all under one common fold. The first quadrennial convention of the American Railway Union will be held next fall."

The women's auxiliary to the railroad department Y. M. C. A. will meet Thursday next for an afternoon tea at the residence of Mrs. J. W. Burns, No. 62 Brackenridge street. A full attendance is requested.

Yesterday the Nickel Plate commenced running its new day coaches on this end of the line. These cars are elegantly equipped and the interior is finished in quartered oak in the most expensive manner.

The empty car movement is unusually heavy. Most of the roads are placing their surplus cars on the side tracks along the lines, anticipating an increase in grain movement as soon as the farmers get their corn in.

A terrific storm of wind and rain played havoc on the Nickel Plate road both east and west of here this morning. Telegraph poles were blown down and their service from that source rendered impracticable for several hours.

Nickel Plate Brakeman F. Ferguson is off duty on account of sickness. Brakeman Sharrock, Lyons, Kruhenser, William Shea and Miner have reported after a short absence. Miner had an ankle sprained while out on the road a short time ago.

The smoke stack at Frank D. Alderman's washing machine factory was leveled by the heavy wind at an early hour this morning. The accident is unfortunate at this time, as it will delay business in the shop a day or two just at a time when work is most plentiful.

W. P. Smith, purchasing timber agent for the Standard Wheel company, and Mrs Smith were guests of friends at Monroeville Sunday. In driving home in the evening Mr. Smith encountered two large blue racers, which he speedily killed. The snakes were five feet long.

During the worst of the gale last evening the large lumber and dry house of the Fort Wayne Lumber company collapsed and went down into Shoaff's Run, carrying hundreds of dollars worth of dressed lumber with it. Luckily the door of the building remained intact, thus saving the contents from any great damage. The building, a large two story frame, is a total wreck, the studding and siding being broken and splintered beyond use. The roof remained whole and slighted on top of the lumber, protecting it from the rain.

The Pennsylvania Base Ball club today sent a challenge to the electric light boys. The latter have not yet organized a ball team, but they will do so during the present week and will probably accept the challenge.

S. C. Mohin, apprentice in the Wabash machine shops, yesterday stuck his finger between a bolt and revolving pulley "just for fun." The belt yanked him over against the machine with such force that his face was severely bruised.

Master Car Builder J. A. Graham and Foreman Ward Kemp, of the lumber yards, expect to go to Altoona, Pa., this week, where they will meet other car and lumber men of the Pennsylvania lines, compare notes, and discuss matters pertaining to their respective branches of the service.

President George Roberts, General Manager Joseph Wood and General Superintendent Charles Watts, of the Pennsylvania lines, came in on a special train last night and at 11 o'clock made a tour of the shops. The special bearing the officials remained here all night and left for the east at 7 o'clock this morning.

Several of the roads in the Western Passenger association are seriously considering the reduction of the westbound passenger rates if the Atchison persists in reducing the tariff to Chicago. One-way rates will be returned to the same basis as round-trip rates, and a general reduction throughout the west is likely to prevail for some time after the expiration of the world's fair.

The clerks in the Pittsburg shops and offices are busy today receiving and checking off votes for a member of the advisory board of the Pennsylvania Voluntary Relief association. The candidates for the office are Crawford Griswold, the present incumbent; Fred G. Olds, Haswell D. Hale and Alfred S. Darnell. Samuel McAfee's name also appears on the list, but he is not a candidate, though votes are being polled for him. The result of the election will not be known for several weeks.

The first spike of the proposed Goshen and Elkhart electric line was driven by President Coleman on Saturday last. City officials and citizens generally aided in making the ceremony an interesting one.

While friends were attending the burial of the late Mrs. Phillip Young, of Huntington county, a wagon conveying the family of Emerick Ehlhart was overturned on a hillside, and Mrs. Ehlhart was dangerously hurt.

He left a note addressed to his wife, reading: "My darling, good bye; good bye. I hate to leave you. I am awfully nervous. I hate to cause you so much pain. Good bye, my love; you will soon come. I do this with my own hand. Your best friend on earth." Mr. Danielz was worried over financial matters.

Sweeps Through Louisville, Destroying Houses.

The Cloud Takes a Circuitous Route, Leaving Where it Began—News From Other Storm Centres.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 23.—A tornado which visited this city at 1 o'clock this morning wrecked many stores and residences, and played havoc in general. A number of people had narrow escapes from death. No damage has been reported from points outside of the city. The roof of the Louisville and Nashville railroad was blown down, burying many workmen none of whom were killed. Quibley's meat market was also badly damaged. The path of the storm extended from Hancock and Walnut streets to Marshal street, thence to Clay, thence to Gray to Jefferson, over Jefferson to Market, up Market to Campbell, and over to Green street again.

WANTS THE LETTERS PUBLISHED.

A Virginia Candidate Accuses His Rival at Vacancy.

LURAY, Va., May 23.—Mr. Richey, one of the candidates for clerk of Page county, has created a sensation by withdrawing from the race under the most conditions. As the story goes, Richey and his opponent, Bradley, agreed to conduct the campaign without the use of money. Matters were progressing satisfactorily, when Mr. Richey withdrew from the contest. In an open letter to Mr Bradley Richey explained his action. He charges Bradley with having stated that he had in his possession letters written by Richey, which, if published, would blast his reputation. Continuing he writes:

You refused to show me the contents of said letters or tell how they came into your possession. I have therefore severed connection with all organizations that might suffer thereby, and now as a citizen of Page county who has never refused to let his fellow men know his vices as well as virtues, I demand that you publish the said letters, that I may have the opportunity to defend myself. You cannot hold any letters of mine as a scorpion lash over me as an individual. Let them come out now.

Mr. Richey has also withdrawn from the Methodist church, of which he was a prominent member. The letters have not yet been published, and Mr Richey says there will be trouble if they are not. The democrats have put another candidate in the field.

Nothing but common sense washing of clothes, paint, dishes, anything in the house with something that takes out the dirt, instead of making you rub it out. It's a big difference. There's a saving in the labor—but, beside that, there's a saving in the wear.

Washing with acids and chemicals is easy, too—but it isn't safe. Washing with Pearline is.

This gives Fort Wayne again the representation upon the state board of education in place of Terre Haute.

IRWIN SUCCEEDS WILEY.

Dr. I. S. Irwin, of Fort Wayne, is to succeed W. H. Wiley, of Terre Haute, on the state board of education, to-day. To take place nominally. This is due to a decision of the Wells county court in a case of the city of Bluffton against the county superintendent at Fort Wayne, which was carried to the Wells county court on a change of venue. After the Fort Wayne authorities had taken the last school transportation of that city the Bluffton [illegible] not agree with the approval of the county superintendent, Irwin. He took the contract from over again, and it not only exceeded the figures of the city commission, but was greater than that of Terre Haute. An attempt was made to have the superintendent of public instruction ordered the appropriation of the city authorities. The three largest cities of the state are represented on the state board of education, and according to Superintendent Young's figures Terre Haute now ranks fourth in proportion to the number of school children, Fort Wayne having 14,782 and Terre Haute 14,[illegible]. The attorneys of both sides held a conference at the state house this morning, when it was decided that [illegible] should be placed on the state board until the case could be tested in the supreme court, where it will be carried at once. The suit is a friendly one.

School Trustees Oliver P. Morgan, A. R. Holman, and Moritz, of Fort Wayne, filed suit in the superior court here to restrain H. D. Voris, state superintendent of public instruction, from making a distribution of the school funds, alleging that the apportionment, as certified by County Superintendent Young, is less than the actual one. The trustees report 14,782, and the superintendent has certified to only 11,[illegible]. Suit has also been brought against Young at Fort Wayne.

SOUTH CAROLINA'S GOVERNOR.

Tillman on the Proposed Liquor Dispensaries in His State.

Columbia, S. C., May 23.—Governor Tillman had some interesting things to say about the manner in which the South Carolina liquor dispensary system will be conducted. He has ordered badges for special detectives who will make arrests, seize whiskies and see that the law is properly enforced as well as keep an eye on the county dispensers and social clubs. The different beers sold in the dispensary will be numbered instead of named. All the beer must stand on its own merits on the market and will be sold at the uniform price of fifteen cents per bottle.

"We will encourage good beer in every way possible," said the governor. "And I hope the legislature will allow us to put it on draught where it can be obtained cheap and in a palatable way."

The cheapest whisky will be retailed to the customer at $3 per gallon down to twenty cents for a half pint. The liquors sold at $3 will cost half that much at the distillers and will be the best obtainable at that price. The governor said that since he had been investigating the subject he had discovered two things—first, that very little honest liquor is sold in this state, most of it being compounded liquor, second, that the dealers in this state have been using vessels from two to eight ounces below the requirements. He said that he had also discovered that nine-tenths of the liquor sold in this state is from 60 to 81 per cent. proof, when it ought to be 100. It has been watered as well as doctored, colored and sugared. The whisky that will be sold by the dispensary, said he, will be from 21 to 10 per cent. stronger than that now sold and there will be absolutely honest measure and an absolutely pure article.

"I have collected about twenty-five samples of liquor from different parts of the state," he continued, "and when a chemical analysis has been made of these we will show the people what kind of stuff they have been drinking."

He stated that he was convinced that nine-tenths of the whisky sold in this state is not over two or three months old, and has not had time to get mellow and lose its injurious properties. The governor calculates that there will be nearly a million gallons of liquor sold by the dispensaries and that the net profit will not be less than $200,000 for the first year.
